Homemakers Clubs Use Holiday Season To Reflect Back On A Successful Year

by Loretta Wotring
Publicity Chairman
Garrett County Homemakers
Clubs

It is said that Christmas is a perfect time to reflect back on the past year, to remember the fun, laughter, acquaintances, beginnings, endings, and everything of importance that happened during the year. During the holiday season, what is more fun than gathering together for a visit and sharing some memories? So, before we begin another decade, let's reflect back on 1989.

Last year at this time, the Garrett County Extension Homemakers received a grant to promote highway safety.

Many Homemakers helped sew and distribute seatbelt shoulder strap covers. Approximately 800 seatbelt users in this area received one of them. The group of Homemakers who worked hard on this project were very happy with the results, and the Homemakers State Council received a national award for this project.

In the spring of this year, the Maryland Cooperative Extension Service celebrated its 75th year. The MCES is the off-campus, out-of-classroom arm of the University of Maryland System. It offers practical information for families (home economics), young people (4-H clubs), farmers, nurserymen, and watermen (agriculture). Each county in Maryland has an Extension Office with an agent for each of these areas. The home economist agent for Garrett County is Irmgard Kościelniak. She is well educated and informed about supplying information for anything from nutrition and budgeting, to lawn care and water conservation. She is always very active in Homemakers activities and can be contacted for information at 334-1990.

During May the Homemakers celebrated National Homemakers Week. Many of the clubs in Garrett County do something special at this time each year. This year, there were bake sales, craft sales, special lunches, and various other activities going on that week of May in the Homemakers' honor.

The annual spring meeting for the executive board and all members was also held that week. It was a wonderful program hosted by the Sunnyside Club. The slide presentation on Leo Beachy, given by Maxine Beachy Broadwater, was excellent. The group was also honored by the presence of other guests at the spring meeting.

Many members and Agent Kościelniak helped in the preparation for the 1989 World's Whitewater Canoe/Kayak Championships. This will be one event that everyone will remember.

The fall brought with it the Annual Nine-To-Nine program. It is a full day of learning with a minimal cost and a maximum schedule. It is held each year at Garrett Community College and it is sponsored by the Garrett County Cooperative Extension Service. Irmgard Kościelniak is always instrumental in arranging this event. Many Homemakers actually do some of the teaching and, as every program offered by the Extension Office, it is open to all citizens without regard to race, color, sex, handicap, religion, age, or national origin.

Many people visited the Homemakers booth at the Garrett County Fair this year and found out that Homemakers are, and do, more than most people think. It is not possible to tell everything there is to tell about the organization and the clubs. Hopefully, some of the photos on this page will do the talking for the clubs.

"Who's News" tells the public what the Extension Office can do for them. Each month this column relays information about the clubs in the county. Look for it in the coming months in this publication.

Just as I am publicity chairman, there are many Homemakers who chair positions such as cultural arts, family relations and health, food and nutrition. Then we all get together and report on the year at the Achievement Day meeting held in the fall. This year it was held at the McHenry Fire Hall. There was a special award ceremony and the new president, Earleena Trassler; new treasurer, Zella Bittlinger; and new secretary, Opal Fasnaker, were installed. Many special guests, such as County Commissioners Elwood Groves, Ernest Gregg, and John Braskey; County Extension Director Alice Heavner; District Director Dorothy Dudrow; State Council President Elaine Crowe and her husband, Bob; Volunteer Leadership Coordinator Ella Smart; and Allegany Council President Connie Yates, attended.

The program was given by Father John A. Grant, who showed slides of the day book of the Sang Run Post Office covering 1839 to 1843 with stories of some of the customers of the post office and general store and how mail was received and dispersed.

Holidays are special for all Homemakers Clubs in the county. Some of us carry on traditions that have been started since the first organizational meeting, and others try new things each year. Whether it is just getting together for a family meal or party, or a visit to the local nursing home, or helping restock the food pantry, we all have that wonderful feeling inside once the year is done. Each club does so much for the community it resides in, and the photos show many of these activities.

The generosity and kindness of these Homemakers goes on all year long, not just during the Christmas season. Some things even go untold, but we know that it counts. You can see the love and caring on every face. So, take another look at Homemakers at work. If you would like to be a part of all this, call Loretta Wotring at 334-3837. From all of us to all of you, "Happy Holidays."

NEW GERMANY — The New Germany Homemakers Club is pictured holding their annual Christmas dinner and gift exchange which was held this year at the Top of the Hill Restaurant. During the year, they have made comforters which were given as gifts to persons in the community. The club also donates yearly to the Heart Fund and Hospice of Garrett County, and they help prepare funeral dinners at a local church. The New Germany Homemakers Club meets the first Wednesday of every month at 1 p.m.

DEER PARK — Each year the Deer Park Homemakers Club holds Memorial Day Services at the Deer Park Cemetery. Pictured above are the Garrett Highlanders, just one of the groups that have attended this event since it began 35 years ago. This club also helps to resupply the House of Hope Food Pantry, visits area nursing homes regularly, and works at the suppers to benefit the Deer Park Volunteer Fire Department. They also host a 50-year member, Mary Rollman. The Deer Park Homemakers meet the second Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m.

LOCH LYNN — Members of the Loch Lynn Homemakers Club are pictured above making decorative boxes which they filled with candy and distributed to area nursing homes for Christmas. The Loch Lynn Homemakers meet the second Tuesday of each month at 1 p.m.

BITTINGER — The Bittinger Homemakers held a Christmas party at the Bittinger Fire Hall and restocked the Food Pantry with donations from club members and area residents. The Bittinger Homemakers meet the fourth Tuesday at each month at 1 p.m.

FRIENDSVILLE — This year the Friendsville Homemakers Club, which meets the third Tuesday of each month at 1 p.m., made donations to the Friendsville Firemen, Northern Rescue Squad and to the Heart Fund. Each Christmas they take a collection of canned food to the House of Hope, and have members who volunteer for Hospice of Garrett County.

COVE — The Cove Homemakers were very busy this year with community activities. In April the club held an auction to benefit the Crane House Restoration Fund. They helped serve the Fourth of July Accident Homecoming Dinner. They give an annual donation to the Red Cross, and prepared boxes of goodies for community shut-ins for Christmas. The Cove Homemakers meet the fourth Monday of each month at 8 p.m.

CASSELLMAN VALLEY — The Casselman Valley Homemakers Club is pictured at their recent Christmas party. For approximately 12 years the club has served refreshments at an annual Heart Fund Card Party. They also plant flowers in the beds around the "Welcome to Grantsville" sign and at the Community Park. The club meets the first Tuesday of each month at 8 p.m.

MEADOW GLADE — The Meadow Glade Homemakers Club celebrated Christmas with a club dinner and gift exchange. Since the members are scattered between Bittinger, Crellin, Oakland and Swanton there is no one community they can serve. Therefore, this club does volunteer work for the Extension Service, Red Cross, area schools, area community buildings, and Meals on Wheels, just to name a few. Many members volunteer faithfully to work at the Garrett County Fair. They donate annually to the House of Hope and Southern Rescue Squad. The club meets the second Thursday of each month at 10 a.m.

SUNNYSIDE — The Sunnyside Homemakers made and distributed walker bags to the patients of Dennett Road Manor Nursing Home. This year they also helped the American Cancer Organization by selling daffodils. They made favors for the patients at Garrett County Memorial Hospital for April Fools Day, and made lap robes for the Sunnyside Road patients during National Homemakers Week. The Sunnyside Homemakers meet the fourth Tuesday of each month at 12:45 p.m.

Southern Girls Earn Berth In Snowflake Classic Title Contest

The Southern High School girls' varsity will meet Westmar this evening in the championship game of the Rams' annual Snowflake Classic, having defeated Northern last night in an opening round contest, 45-34. The Westmar girls earned a spot in the title game by rolling over Fort Hill, 56-27.

Melinda Evick led the Rams in scoring with 18 points and Tracy Dawson finished with 10. The Rams were not seriously threatened by the Huskies, as they held a 10-2 advantage after one quarter, led 27-14 at halftime, and were on top 35-23 going into the final quarter.

Kristen Edwards paced the Huskies with 15 points.

The win upped Southern's overall record to 3-2 and they will meet the 5-2 Westmar Wildcats for the second time this season, having lost to them earlier.

In action late last week in the Baltimore area, Coach Don Stemple's squad rallied in the fourth quarter for a win over Fallston High School on Thursday night, 40-36, but then fell to powerful Mercy High on Friday night, 46-34.

Against Fallston, the Rams held a 12-8 advantage at the end of the first quarter and were on top 20-15 at halftime, but then were outscored by the home team in the third stanza, 14-4, and trailed 29-24.

Shelli Cannon's three-point shot with just two minutes remaining gave the Rams the lead again, 35-34, with about two minutes remaining. Fallston tied the game at 36 before Cannon and Kathy Gibson each sank a pair of free throws to seal the win.

Gibson led the Rams with 14 points and 15 rebounds, while Cannon added nine points. Pacing Fallston was Brenda Cannon with 15 points.

The Rams opened the game against Mercy, ranked seventh in the Baltimore Sun's pre-season poll, by taking a 10-6 lead in the first quarter. The score was knotted at 18 at halftime and Mercy led by four, 31-27, by the end of the third period. Southern was then outscored in the final stanza, 15-7.

Evick led Southern's scoring with 12 points and Tracy Dawson finished with nine. Gibson grabbed seven rebounds and Cannon recorded five steals.

Leading all scorers was Mercy's Kathy Ester, who finished with 19 points.

The championship game of the Snowflake Classic will begin at 8 p.m. this evening, following the 6:15 p.m. consolation game between Northern and Fort Hill.

Coach Stemple said the key to a Ram victory over Westmar will be to contain Dawn Sloan. The sophomore is averaging over 20 points per game and netted 25 last night against Fort Hill.

"If we can hold her below 20 points and play well offensively, we will have a good chance," Stemple said.

Good Food

and how to prepare it!

"Eat, Drink, And Be Merry . . ."

begins the old proverb that will greet many revelers as they gather to welcome in the new year. Unfortunately, along with the celebrating comes an increase of accidents and fatalities associated with drinking and driving. People scurrying from one party to another, toasting the new year with festive brews. This, combined with bad road conditions common to this time of year add up to the increased possibility of serious injury or death.

Keeping the holidays safe for you and your friends is important. If you're hosting a party on New Year's Eve or anytime during the holiday season, you may want to consider serving a non-alcoholic punch or a few refreshing drinks that can be made without liquor. These creative alternatives taste so good that your friends probably won't miss the absent alcohol. And you won't miss your friends at next year's celebrations.

So, toast in the New Year with a clear head and the creative concoctions of beverages and brews from these recipes supplied by the Student Government Association of Garrett Community College and the Garrett County Council on Drug and Alcohol Abuse.

State, County Jobless Rates Fall In October

The estimated number of unemployed people in Maryland at a 14-year low of 92,919 in October, according to statistics released by the Maryland Department of Economic and Employment Development (DEED). The 3.7 percent in October, well below the 4.1 percent of October 1988. This October estimate is the lowest for an October since 1973, when the rate was 3.6 percent.

Garrett County's jobless rate also decreased, from 7.0 percent in September to 6.1 percent in October. The rate for October 1988 was 6.9 percent.

Maryland's unemployment rate remained substantially below the national estimate of 5.0 percent, which marginally dropped by 0.1 percentage points from September to October.

The statewide labor force, after declining by 25,000 in September, increased moderately in October with the addition of an estimated 2,296 people to reach 2,543,771. Also, employment bounced back after losing 29,096 people during the previous month. Employment grew in October by 12,915 to an estimated 2,450,852. Since October, 1988, employment grew by 79,739 in Maryland.

Garrett County's workforce increased slightly, from 13,045 in September to 13,089 in October. Of those totals, 12,133 were employed in September and 12,297 of the October total were employed.

"The continued increase in employment in Maryland and the recent decline in the labor force clearly indicate that we must persist in being creative, using non-traditional resources, to ensure that there is a strong workforce for the state's employers," said J. Randall Evans, secretary of DEED.

"As we encourage employment growth, it is our duty to do all we can to guarantee that our labor force needs are met with skilled, job-ready workers." Jobs rose by 14,900 in October. Recall activity in education, both in local and state government, accounted for most of the increase.

Regionally, in the Baltimore metropolitan area, the unemployment rate fell from 4.5 percent in September to a record low 3.9 percent in October. The jobless rolls were lower in every jurisdiction in the Baltimore area except in Queen Anne's County. In Queen Anne's County, the rate increased slightly by 0.2 percentage points to 2.7 percent due to temporary layoffs in a durable goods plant in neighboring Kent County. Overall, an estimated 7,700 jobs were added in the region during the month.

Modest job gains were reported in retail trade with pre-holiday hiring adding 1,600 workers. Recall activity and increased hiring continued in private educational services, health, agricultural and business services. Employment in construction increased only marginally. Manufacturing lost 100 jobs in food and kindred products, transportation equipment and in concrete products. However, this loss was offset by gains in primary metals, printing and publishing and chemical production.

In Maryland's Washington, D.C. suburbs, unemployment fell by 0.4 percentage points to register 2.7 percent. All counties shared in the decline. Jobs in the region increased by 5,600 over the month.

Joblessness inched down by 0.1 percentage points in the Western Maryland region to 6.2 percent. Allegany County's unemployment rate fell a full percentage point over the month to 6.9 percent and was well below the 7.7 percent level of October, 1988. Hiring activity picked up in the county in manufacturing and educational services, while mild weather kept more construction workers on the job. However, Washington County's unemployment rate increased from 5.3 percent in September to 5.9 percent in October. This was caused by temporary layoffs in the transportation industry.

In the balance of the state, the unemployment rate increased by 0.1 percentage points to 5.2 percent. Jobs fell by an estimated 2,000 with losses in eating and drinking places, hotels and amusement services. In Worcester County, the wrap-up of the tourist season in Ocean City caused the jobless rate to climb in October from 3.9 percent to 6.3 percent. Kent County's unemployment estimate rose due to a major temporary layoff in durable goods manufacturing. However, seasonal harvest activity kept employment levels up in Caroline County where the unemployment rate held steady at 3.2 percent. Education-related recalls in state government caused Wicomico County's unemployment rate to fall from 5.0 percent to 4.3 percent.

Locally, unemployment rates ranged from a low of 2.0 percent in Howard County to a high of 7.3 percent in Kent County.

Somerset Rural Electric Company Issues Refunds

Somerset Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc., which has some customers in Garrett County, has refunded patronage capital for 1989 totaling $127,542 to 5,472 current or former member-owners. Checks were mailed from the Cooperative office in the Industrial Park on December 19.

Harold E. Nicholson, the Cooperative's general manager, said, "The patronage capital represent margins for a one-year period. Margins are the dollars that remain after bills have been paid."

"At the end of each fiscal year, when final expenditures and receipts have been determined, any remaining margins are credited to the capital accounts of members on the basis of their contribution — the amount they paid for electricity during the year. The margins are used as capital for 20 years before they are refunded," he said.

Refunds are also made to the estates of deceased members. This year, from January through December, those refunds totaled $22,212.

This refund marks the 11th consecutive year that the Cooperative has authorized general retirement of patronage capital. Cooperative records indicate that retirements made to members since 1980 have totaled $2,883,811.

It's about time to settle husband, wife dispute

By Polly Vonetes

Q. In the mid- to late '60s I remember a television show about two astronauts who were in a time warp and found themselves living with cave men. The theme song went something like this: "It's about time. It's about space. It's about two men in a crazy place." What can you tell me about this show? My husband thinks I'm nuts and says there never was such a series. —Sandy Chavalia, Kingsley, Mich.

A. Sandy, you are not nuts! The series It's About Time, aired on CBS from Sept. 11, 1966 to Aug. 27, 1967. The two astronauts were played by Jack Mullany (Hector) and Frank McRae (Mac). When their space capsule cracked the time barrier, they landed in a swamp smack in the middle of the Stone Age, not far from a tribe of cave dwellers. Among their new prehistoric neighbors were a friendly couple, Shad (Imogene Coca) and Cronk (Joe F. Ross). Eventually they repaired their ship and returned to the 20th century bringing Shad, Cronk and their two children back with them. Now who's nuts?

Q. I would like some information on Andrea Elson, and when she was born and where she lives. —E. Dulin, Nortonville, Ky.

A. Andrea was born in Manhattan on March 6, 1969. She and her older sister Samantha grew up in New York, Chicago, San Diego and Los Angeles as the family followed her father's career moves as an advertising executive. Elson began working at age 11 after her mother sent her picture to San Diego talent agents. She landed the first part she auditioned for, a commercial. Her first role in television was on the series Whiz Kids. The 21-year-old star is currently enrolled at UCLA and enjoys horseback riding and playing tennis.

Q. I would like to write to Christopher Burke who plays Corky on the series Life Goes On. I love that show and I think Chris is a super actor and a great guy. Where could I write to him? —Diana Sloan, Lansing, Mo.

A. I am sure Chris would love to hear from you. Write him, c/o Warner Bros. Television, 4000 Warner Blvd., Burbank, Calif. 91522.

Q. I am sitting here watching Till We Meet Again. The star that is playing the part of the mother of the two daughters—could it be possible that she is related to Donna Reed of The Donna Reed Show? —Vincennes, Ind.

A. The role of Eve Gaudet was played by Lucy Gutteridge, an English actress. She is the daughter of poet Bernard Gutteridge and is not related to Donna Reed.

Please send your questions about television past and present to Polly Vonetes, TV Pipeline, P.O. Box 17748, Fort Worth, Texas 76102-0748. Because of the volume of mail, only questions of general interest will be answered. Personal replies cannot be granted.

Celebrities sing in the new year

By Mary Ann Townsend

TV viewers can welcome in the new year and the new decade with a variety of music styles on Sunday night.

PBS features the classic sounds of the Berlin Philharmonic in Carmina Burana. ABC features rock sounds on Dick Clark's Rockin' New Year's Eve '90 and CBS goes country with its Happy New Year America-1990.

At 10 p.m. Eastern, viewers can tune to PBS for the Berlin Philharmonic's welcoming in of the new year. Conductor Seiji Ozawa leads the orchestra with a special performance by Kathleen Battle.

Both the ABC and CBS New Year's Eve specials begin at 11:30 Eastern time. Kirk Cameron of Growing Pains and Lori Loughlin of Full House give the New Year's rousing welcome with Dick Clark on ABC. As Clark counts down the seconds in New York's Times Square, Cameron and Loughlin host the festivities from Hollywood's famed Grove nightclub.

Michael Damian, Dion, Exposé, Martika, Stephanie Mills and the Temptations are set to perform for the 18th annual edition of Dick Clark's Rockin' New Year's Eve '90.

"The television set becomes the juke box for the evening. They are all numbers you can dance to," said Mike Gargiulo, who has been executive producer for

CBS' New Year's Eve show for 11 years. "We like to make viewers feel they're watching an action show."

Although taping for segments of the show was done earlier in December, Gargiulo said celebrities in the audience still get caught up in the New Year's spirit. "The people get with it," he said at the taping. "We know it's Dec. 31, but when we pretend it's New Year's, you'll see the balloons fall and a girl over in the corner with mascara running down her face and the whole bit."

Despite all the celebrities on tap at the various celebrations, Gargiulo points out the real star of the evening. "The star of the show," he said, "is the ball in Times Square."

Renee Jones hopes 'L.A. Law' role has positive influence

By Mary Ann Townsend

Renee Jones, who recently joined NBC's L.A. Law cast as hard-working law student Diana Moses, said she hopes the role will have a positive influence on young viewers.

"I really like Diana because she's positive—a positive role model for young black kids. Little girls from 9 to 16 year olds, they look up to you. Hopefully they see me playing a role like this and they'll try to emulate it."

Happy with the role as new partner Jonathan Rollins' love interest, Jones said the character is a welcome change of pace. "After years on daytime TV in shows like Days of Our Lives, Santa Barbara and Rituals, and in horror films such as Friday the 13th: Part 6 and The Librarians, L.A. Law provides refreshing realism.

To help achieve her goals, Jones uses a technique called creative visualization, in which you visualize what you would like to have happen, and supposedly it will. The actress insists this technique helped her land the part on L.A. Law.

"A TV Guide cover came out with L.A. Law women around a circle on it. I took a picture of myself and I just glued it right smack in the middle. I do believe you can create things to happen in your life. You just have to know what you want. Be careful what you ask for, though, because you might get it."

Margeret Judd (Brynn Thayer) faces a tough choice on Island Son, Thursday on CBS.

Reginald VelJohnson plays Carl Winslow in ABC's comedy Family Matters on Fridays.

Tournament of Roses reaches full bloom Monday

All three networks cover parade

By Azar Wheeler

Without having to fight the expected crowd of one million for a spot of curb, TV viewers can comfortably watch the 101st Tournament of Roses Parade Monday as all three networks plan coverage of the annual spectacle.

ABC, CBS and NBC will go to Pasadena, Calif. to bring live coverage of the 5-1/2-mile parade which this year features 60 flower-covered floats, 22 marching bands and more than 275 equestrians.

First held in 1890, the parade began when members of the Valley Hunt Club voted to stage a parade of rose decorated horse and buggies and an afternoon of public games on the "town lot" east of Los Robles. Now the parade is one event in a weekend full of events—including marching band performances, an equestrian festival and a variety of museum exhibits—signifying the beginning of a new year.

Of course the parade also kicks off the Rose Bowl game, which offers college football action between the champions of the Big Ten and Pacific-10 Conferences.

This year's matchup is between Michigan and the University of Southern California. The 12th-ranked Trojans from USC finished 8-2-1. They have lost two consecutive Rose Bowl games, including a 20-17 decision to Michigan State in 1988. The third-ranked Michigan Wolverines, 10-1 during the regular season and a contender for the national championship, beat Southern Cal 22-14 last January to improve Michigan's Rose Bowl record to 2-7.

John Glenn, a three-term U.S. Senator from Ohio, will be the parade's Grand Marshal.

Sen. John Glenn and Rose Queen Yasmine Begum Delaware celebrate 101 years of Rose Parade history. The parade airs on ABC, CBS and NBC on Monday.

Wilmer Miller SHA Employee Of The Week

Wilmer C. Miller is being recognized as Employee of the Week through the Maryland State Highway Administration's Employee Recognition Program for Garrett County.

Miller entered state service in September 1980 as a laborer. He is currently working out of the Keyser's Ridge maintenance shop as an automotive specialist.

Miller resides at Keyser's Ridge with his wife, Carol, who is branch manager for the Garrett National Bank in Accident. They are the parents of one daughter, Robin, and the grandparents of two children.

Wilmer and Carol enjoy traveling. They have been to Nashville several times, Niagara Falls, Smokey Mountains, Florida, and have taken a cruise to Nassau. He is a member of the American Legion. He and his wife also enjoy country music and dancing.

When asked what he was looking forward to in the future, Miller replied, "retirement."

"Wilmer's pleasant personality makes him well liked among his peers," stated an SHA spokesman. "He puts in many long hours in the winter working in the shop in order to keep the trucks on the road so that the roads can be safe for the traveling public. His dedication to his job is very commendable."

HOST SEMINAR — Mountaineer Log and Siding Company, McHenry, recently held a Builder/Dealer Seminar at Point View Inn. Karen Spiker, president of the company, was the keynote speaker. Salespeople Donna Breneman, Allen Campbell, and Larry Tichnell all spoke on various sales topics. Julie Frazee, computer design technician, and John Wolfe, engineering consultant, spoke about their specific areas. People from Northeastern Pennsylvania, all parts of West Virginia, and Virginia attended. The following day, some of the group traveled to Bartow, W.V., to tour Interstate Lumber, where the Mountaineer Log and Siding is produced, from cut tree to finished log (pictured below). Many of the participants have signed up to become dealers and will represent Mountaineer Log and Siding in their areas.

Completion Of C&P System Makes Md. Leader In Telecommunications

J. Randall Evans, secretary of the Maryland Department of Economic and Employment Development (DEED), says that completion by C&P Telephone Company of its statewide electronic switching system represents a major stride forward in the state's telecommunications capabilities. "C&P's conversion to a fully electronic system makes Maryland a national leader in telecommunications," Evans said.

Evans was among those attending a celebration ceremony in Princess Anne on Maryland's Eastern Shore, where C&P Telephone President J. Henry Butta announced the final conversion of the company's 223 central offices to electronic switching. The new system, a change from electromechanical switching, means that C&P customers in every part of the state are served by dialing systems that are 1,000 times faster than the ones previously used. The new system also provides access to such enhanced services as call waiting, call forwarding, three-way calling and speed calling.

"The cost of C&P for this improved telecommunications technology has been enormous, but the state's economy will reap the benefits of this system many times over in the years to come," said Evans. Evans said that an advanced telecommunications system is a key component in the state's economic development, and that extending the electronic switching system to the Eastern Shore will help attract businesses to that area.

Evans said that upgraded C&P service in Western Maryland and the company's expenditures of $13 million on central office equipment and outside facilities in that region has recently benefitted Allegany, Washington and Garrett counties. He used as an example Biospherics, Inc., a Beltsville-based company that chose Western Maryland over an out-of-state site because the area could offer such comprehensive telecommunications services. "Businesses in Maryland stand to benefit from the new services now available through C&P," he said.

According to C&P president Butta, his company has been working on the conversion to electronic switching since the system first became available in 1965. Butta said that the cost to C&P for the systems conversion in its 223 central offices was $800 million, and that the total cost for the changeover was well over $1 billion. "These expenditures were vital — not just to our industry, but also to the state's economy and to the 1.8 million Marylanders served by C&P," he said. Butta said that C&P is now capable of handling the most sophisticated types of information services, including combined audio, video and data signals.

hensive telecommunications services. "Businesses in Maryland stand to benefit from the new services now available through C&P," he said.

Drivers Reminded Of New Drunk Driving Law

Maryland State Police and the Maryland Motor Vehicle Administration are reminding motorists of a new drunk driving law which allows police in Maryland to confiscate the driver's license of a drunk driver.

Beginning January 1, 1990, police in Maryland will have the authority to confiscate the license of a driver who either refuses an alcohol test or whose test reveals a blood alcohol level of .10 or more.

"The arresting officer will take the license and issue a 45-day temporary license," said W. Marshall Rickert, administrator, Motor Vehicle Administration.

Appearing on the Maryland State Police Radio Program, a weekly public service radio broadcast, Rickert said motorists will have an opportunity to appeal. "During that 45-day period, the driver will have the opportunity to ask for a hearing, prior to a suspension taking effect," Rickert said. "We believe the new (administrative per se) law will serve as an excellent deterrent against drinking and driving," added Rickert.

Under the new law, a driver refusing the alcohol test faces a mandatory driver's licensing suspension. The new law provides a six-month suspension for the first drunk driving offense and a one-year suspension for a second offense. A driver who fails the test faces a mandatory 90-day suspension unless the failure is a first offense which, under certain circumstances, could lead to the issuance of a restricted driver's license.

Twenty-eight states have enacted an administrative per se law. "There have been dramatic drops in the incidents of alcohol related fatalities," said Rickert. "In the midwest, some states experienced a reduction of more than 40 percent," Rickert added.

Maryland State Police and the allied law enforcement community are gearing up for an aggressive enforcement strategy in search of drunk drivers. Last year in Maryland, police made 34,815 drunk driving arrests.

The Maryland State Police Radio Program is a weekly public service radio broadcast carried on approximately 50 radio stations in Maryland and the District of Columbia. The program is supported by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration and the Maryland Department of Transportation.

Second Maryland Arts Day In Annapolis Set

As many as 1,000 citizens from every county in the state will be gathering for Maryland Arts Day in Annapolis on Thursday, January 26, to meet with members of the General Assembly to urge passage of a significant increase in support for the state's arts budget.

Sue Hess, chairman of Maryland Citizens for the Arts, the advocacy organization which sponsors the day, is leading the biennial recruitment of art supporters who are asked to converge on Annapolis for a day of workshops and meetings with their legislators. More than 8,000 arts advocates and groups have been contacted to date and many are expected to participate in this grassroots demonstration for the arts. According to Hess, "We must let our legislators know that we care enough to come from every county, city, and town in Maryland to tell them how important the arts are in our lives and those of our families."

Governor William Donald Schaefer, a strong supporter of the arts, has proposed an unprecedented $2.4 million increase for the Maryland State Arts Council, with the major part of the appropriation earmarked for up to 10 percent of the operating budgets of all qualifying Maryland arts organization as well as increases to the 24 county arts councils.

The conference attendees will be given free bus transportation to and from Annapolis for a day that will include lunch-time appointments with the legislators; a keynote address by New York playwright, Michael Weller; presentation by Governor Schaefer of the Maryland Citizens for the Arts "Award of the Year" to the Honorable Francis D. Murnaghan Jr., founder of Maryland Citizens for the Arts, and seven "nuts and bolts" workshops that will address everything from grant application writing to tax and budget advice for arts groups. The Community Arts Alliance of Maryland has cooperated in planning the day's events.

Two Million Maryland Tax Packets Now On The Way; Changes Noted

Maryland state income taxpayers will benefit from several changes on the 1989 state return which will speed up processing, allow more individuals to use the short form and tax tables, boost the personal exemption and minimum standard deduction, and offer tax breaks to some military and poverty level individuals, Maryland State Comptroller Louis Goldstein announced at a joint IRS-State news conference in Baltimore on Tuesday. The comptroller also said his office will be making even more joint taxpayer service appearances with I.R.S. personnel during the upcoming tax filing season.

One major change on the more than two million Maryland tax packets on their way to taxpayers will make computing the Maryland tax easier. "This year, most taxpayers will be able to use the Maryland tax tables. That process will be very similar to what you do on your federal return and eliminates even more of the arithmetic that seems to cause errors," Goldstein said.

The comptroller added that more people will be able to use the Maryland short Form 503 since there is no longer an income limit and more senior citizens can file the short form. "There is a series of questions on the back of the short form that let you determine if you can use it," he said.

Maryland's personal exemption on the 1989 return has been increased to $1,100. Taxpayers 65 or older — or blind — are now eligible for the regular $1,100 personal exemption plus an extra exemption of $1,000.

"Those amounts are different, so taxpayers should be careful when they fill out the exemptions area of the Maryland form. For the first time, taxpayers will be able to calculate the dollar value of their personal exemptions in that area on the form — no more multiplying on the back of an old envelope," Goldstein said.

He noted that Maryland's minimum standard deduction amounts have been increased to $1,500 for single individuals and $3,000 for married couples.

The contribution feature for the Chesapeake Bay and Endangered Species Fund will reappear on the 1989 return, following its successful debut last year. "Last year, about 85,000 taxpayers donated nearly $1 million. I want to thank all those who participated and encourage taxpayers to read the material in the tax packet and consider making a contribution," Goldstein said.

I Remember You're from the income tax office

The comptroller is also asking taxpayers to include their subdivision code on their return, based upon a list featured on page two of the state tax packet.

"There are two good reasons for you to write in the subdivision code. First, it helps make sure your local government receives its fair share of the more than $1.2 billion in local income tax. Secondly, the code will speed up your refund check," he said.

Tax breaks enacted by the Maryland General Assembly will affect many military taxpayers and others with poverty level income. "Maryland residents who are members of the armed forces and whose 1989 income includes active duty overseas pay may be able to exclude up to $15,000 of that pay from state tax," he said.

A special worksheet in the Maryland packet will also help taxpayers determine if they are eligible for the new poverty level income tax break.

"It's very important to file early this year. The sooner you file, the sooner you'll get that refund check. So don't delay, file today and we'll send your refund check on its way," Goldstein said.

The comptroller reminded taxpayers that all 15 Maryland income tax offices will offer free state tax assistance Monday through Friday until the filing deadline, April 16, 1990. The hours of assistance are 8:30 a.m. — 5:00 p.m. Extra hours of assistance will also be offered on all state holidays and certain weekends during the filing season. The addresses and telephone numbers of all 15 Maryland income tax offices are listed on the back of the state tax packet and in most local telephone directories. The statewide toll-free number for free state income tax assistance is 1-800-MD TAXES.

Federal Tax Packages Now In The Mail

More than 2.5 million federal tax packages started arriving this week in mailboxes throughout Maryland and the District of Columbia.

At a news conference Tuesday, Phil Brand, IRS District Director for Maryland and D.C., urged taxpayers to allow up to two weeks to receive their tax booklets. "If yours doesn't arrive by then, or you need a different form, call 1-800-424-3676 to place your order," Brand said.

Brand asked taxpayers to take a few moments to review the tax packages and begin gathering information needed to file their returns.

Although the 1989 Forms 1040, 1040A and 1040EZ closely resemble those taxpayers used last year, there are a number of changes taxpayers should note, Brand said.

Among the forms changes are: "There are two name lines at the top of Forms 1040 and 1040A so married taxpayers filing jointly can list their names in the same order as their Social Security numbers.

"Social Security numbers are now required for dependents age two or older.

"Taxpayers who claim the Child and Dependent Care Credit or who receive excludable benefits from an employer-provided Dependent Care Assistance Program must list the taxpayer identification number, name and address of the care provider on their tax return. New Form W-10 may be used to get this information from day care providers.

"Exemption amounts have been increased to $2,000 for the taxpayers, spouse and each dependent, up from $1,950 last year, and the standard deduction has also been increased for most people.

Brand stated, "Although lines were included on this year's forms to report the supplemental Medicare premium, since that law was repealed, taxpayers should simply ignore line 54 on Form 1040 and line 23 on Form 1040A."

Again this year, Brand noted, most taxpayers will not have to itemize deductions and can take advantage of the increased standard deduction.

"Approximately 70 percent of taxpayers will get refunds this year averaging $850," Brand said. "I can't think of a better reason to file early than to get your refund check as soon as possible."

Brand also discussed a new way for taxpayers to file their tax returns called Electronic Filing. "In its second year of availability in Maryland and D.C.," Brand said, "this process is the wave of the future in tax return filing and cuts the waiting time for refunds in half."

Taxpayers are urged to contact IRS for the names and locations of local tax preparers offering Electronic Filing.

Brand concluded his remarks by stating that the IRS stands ready to assist taxpayers in person or telephonically in filing their tax returns and stated, "We are particularly pleased to once again team up with the Maryland State Comptroller's office in providing joint assistance sites on several dates during the filing season."

"You Can Afford College" Program Scheduled For Month Of January

Maryland's colleges, universities, and proprietary schools, supported by a proclamation from Governor William Donald Schaefer, are combining their efforts during the month of January 1990 to promote the availability and publicize the procedures for obtaining financial support for higher education. Focusing upon January, which has been proclaimed "You Can Afford College '90" Month by Governor Schaefer, a wide variety of financial aid information and resources are being made available to the general public.

Maryland Public Television has scheduled a half-hour television program beginning at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, January 3, during which financial aid officers from various levels of higher education will provide information. Viewers may call in questions between the hours of 7:30 and 9 p.m. on that date.

The program also will be rebroadcast at 11 p.m. on Monday, January 22. The toll-free number throughout the State is 1-800-222-1292. Maryland Public Television channels include channels 22, 28, 31, 36 (Oakland), 62, and 67.

Organized by the Maryland Financial Aid Officers, the Maryland Higher Education Loan Corporation, and the Maryland State Scholarship Administration of the Maryland Higher Education Commission, "You Can Afford College '90" is attempting to provide information about how to secure financial assistance for all levels of higher education in Maryland. Resources being publicized include scholarships, grants, loans, and work assistance programs that can be applied to institutions of higher education, such as proprietary schools, community colleges, public and private institutions.

colleges, and universities. A 15-minute VHS video tape providing basic financial assistance information has also been produced. It was previously distributed and is available in local high schools and public libraries.

January is a critical time for those seeking financial aid for Fall 1990 since many financial aid applications, including the Federal Financial Aid Form

(FAF) upon which many sources of financial assistance are based, should be submitted between January 1 and March 1. Financial aid advisors and counselors at local high schools, colleges, universities, and proprietary schools have information available now to assist those interested in exploring the many opportunities available to Maryland residents.

When the old year ends, 365 days will have passed. As the new year begins, it will bring with it another measure of equal time. . . 365 days more. We begin to speak of the old year as "last year"; the new year as "this year."

Last year may have been a happy one or a sad one. Looking back, there may have been happy moments, ones of joy, shared with others—a birth, wedding, an anniversary.

During the past year some have experienced difficulties, pain and sorrow—a serious health breakdown, a betrayal of trust, a heart-breaking bereavement, a friend in trouble.

This year, shape the future by what you have learned from the past, its good along with its bad, live well and do better. Spend your time so that it blesses you and the others around you.

The time God has allotted us on this earth is indeed most precious.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

SIR, COME DOWN!

December 31, 1989

Background Scripture: John 4:46 through 5:18

Devotional Reading: John 4:46-54

One of the things that must have puzzled the contemporaries of Jesus, particularly his critics, was how he could be so uncannily knowledgeable in some situations, and yet be so mistaken in the people whom he healed. As they saw it, he was constantly healing the wrong persons. If he was going to perform a miracle, he should restrict his miracles to the kind of persons who deserved them—the law-abiding, religiously orthodox Jew.

Unfortunately, Jesus never seemed to understand—or, if he understood—didn't take seriously the community's judgement on the people he healed. Take the Capernaum official, for example. This man was not a Jew; in all probability, he was a Roman official and the Romans were clearly the "bad guys" of this era. They imposed their rule on Israel and forced her to pay heavy taxes. They interfered with the religious practices of the Jews and went out of their way to profane things held sacred. So, when the official came to Jesus on behalf of his son, Jesus should have turned him away.

John 5:1-9. When the servants meet him on the way home and tell him his son is cured, he knows that his faith in Jesus is what saved him.

THE WRONG PERSON

In John 5 we find Jesus performing a healing on another man who was "the wrong person." Unlike the official in Capernaum, this man was probably a Jew. But, he was chronically ill, having been waiting at the pool of Bethesda for 38 years. Anyone ill that long was thought to be guilty of some sin or sinned that brought on a divine penalty. Isn't that what Job's friends said to him: "What have you done, Job, to get yourself in this fix?"

"Do you want to be healed?" Jesus did not go about touching people with a magic wand like a fairy godmother. His compassion moved him to help them, but they had to want his help and to believe in him. Whatever their circumstances or their presumed worthiness, they had to be able to say "Sir, come down."

However, what is not seen, but is appreciated, is the planning and the execution of our

"THE FOOD WAS EXCELLENT, the service was great and everyone enjoyed meeting the other parents and friends of other students," commented Paula Sweitzer, a participant in the Christmas dinner held recently by the seniors in the Food Service class at Southern High School. REAL ESTATE

BY ROBERT HUEBNER
DEEP CREEK REALTY

YOUR EXPERIENCE LEVEL!

Imagine getting ready to sell your first home. You choose a real estate agent who arrives at your home on schedule. The agent sits down, pulls out a real estate listing contract and a pen and says "Sign here!" How would you feel?

O.K. then, let's say you've decided to sell your 18th home in as many years. The sales agent of your choice sits down at your kitchen table complete with movie projector and listing presentation book, and proceeds to give you a very basic two hour presentation on the procedures involved in selling a home. Now how would you feel?

One of the services you can expect from your sales agent is the ability to determine your experience level in selling a home, and then to respond by presenting only that information necessary to result in a rewarding, satisfying sales experience.

If the home you're selling is your first, the presentation may include information on the selling process employed by the agent's company, their advertising strategies, use of "For Sale" signs, and an explanation of contract forms which will be used. You may also receive information about closing procedures, sales expenses, and an analysis of the estimated sale price and terms which you can expect. Or, if you've sold many times before, you may only want a thorough explanation of present market conditions and pricing.

Understanding real estate dilemmas and their solutions is our business, and we'll happily share our knowledge with you. Why not give us a call at 387-5303 or drop by our office at McHenry Plaza.

EHRE SEI GOTT IN DER HOEHE, meaning Glory to God in the Highest, is written in German in the interior of the Zion Lutheran Church in Accident, photo above right. There are many different churches located in Garrett County, some of which were first built in the late 1800s, and many of which weren't built until the 1900s. With the commercialization of holidays over the past couple of decades, the true meaning of the holiday season is sometimes forgotten. The holiday season provides the perfect opportunity to attend the church of one's choice, to see the unique attractiveness of each church and to learn its history. St. John's Lutheran Church, Cove, pictured above left, was built in the early 1900s. Other churches with somewhat unique histories or characteristics are pictured on this page.

Garrett County Boasts Wide Variety Of History, Architecture In Local Churches

Ay, call it holy ground. The soil where first they trod! They have left unstained what there they found —

Freedom to worship God.

Felicia Dorothea Henians
1793-1895

Maryland — "The Land of the Sanctuary" was founded in 1834 as a place where all could worship freely. Lord Baltimore, a Catholic, founded the state as a refuge for the persecuted Catholics of England.

Religion has long been a very important part of the history of Garrett County and to the early settlers, and continues to play an important part in the lives of many today. With the holiday season, an article on churches in the county seems to be appropriate.

The earliest reference to churches in Garrett County is in the very late 1700's to the early 1800's. Today, many of the original churches built in the 1800's still stand. Although some of the original structures burned down or were rebuilt, today many churches throughout the county have been standing since the 1800's.

Several churches in Garrett County have very special features, including a church where presidents worshipped and a church named as a national historic site by the U.S. Department of the Interior.

St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, Oakland, was built in 1868 as a community church, for the use of persons without particular religious persuasions. The church was built as a memorial to Henry S. Garrett by John W. Garrett, Henry's brother. Henry had planned the construction of the church, but died before his intentions could be carried out.

The church was built of stone from the Cheat River region at a cost of over $11,000.

The church was used by the community until 1903, when it became a Presbyterian Church. In 1935, the church was closed since the congregation was not strong enough to support it. Arrangements were later made for St. Matthew's Episcopal congregation to use the building. From 1961 to 1966, the condition of the building made it impossible to be used, but in 1962, St. Matthew's purchased the building for $1.00 from the Baltimore Presbytery.

St. Matthew's was restored by the parish and a service of dedication was held on September 21, 1966.

St. Matthew's is known as "Church of the Presidents" since four United States presidents have worshipped there over the years. Ulysses S. Grant, James Garfield, Grover Cleveland and Benjamin Harris have all attended services in St. Matthew's.

Mercy Chapel, an octagonal building on the Mill Run Road in Friendsville, was named a National Historic Site by the U.S. Department of the Interior.

The chapel was built in 1874 under the guidance of Rev. L.W. Haslip, a circuit riding minister of the Methodist Church who pulled together the congregation and helped in the construction of the unique building.

It is said that near the completion of the chapel, he fell from the roof of the building, but was unharmed and declared that it was the Mercy of God that saved him, giving the church its name of Mercy Chapel.

A furnace was installed in the 1920's and electricity was eventually brought into the building to replace kerosene lamps. A new metal roof replaced the shingled one. The church faced a period of inactivity from 1941 to 1970, due to unemployment and other factors, but in 1970 several residents of the Mill Run Valley renovated the building and it was reopened on June 14, 1970.

German immigrants settled in the Accident and Cove areas of Garrett County in the 1840's. The Zion Lutheran Church, Accident, and St. John's Lutheran Church, Cove, can trace their history back to this time.

The congregation of the Zion Lutheran Church celebrated its 125th anniversary this year. The church was first built in 1851 and used until 1901, when it was destroyed by a fire.

The second church building, which still stands today, was built in 1903, at a cost of $5,680, plus $200 for the lot. In 1909, the interior of the church was decorated at a cost of $600 and was later redecorated in 1939 at a cost of $1,300, which was again redecorated in 1984 at a cost of $11,115. A new pipe organ was installed in 1987 for a cost of $48,000.

St. John's Lutheran Church can trace its membership back to 1842, but the present building was not built until 1910. A log church was used from before 1842 until 1883 or 1884, when it was razed and a frame building was built. The present church was erected on the same site as the former buildings and dedicated on May 10, 1910.

Sometime in the early 1940's, new chancel furniture, paraments and carpeting were installed. In the late 1940's new stained glass windows were installed. The basement was excavated and finished to include classrooms, social room, kitchen, furnace and rest rooms in the early 1960's and later in that same time frame a coat room and choir room were built onto the front of the church. In the 1970's, the church was reroofed, a new steeple was erected and the church bell was mounted on a proper ground mount.

The first Catholic church was built in Garrett County in 1827 in the Blooming Rose area. Around the 1850's the church began to lose its congregation and today there is no trace of it or the cemetery. Several churches were then built in various areas of the county. St. Peter's was begun in Oakland in 1852 and by 1875, there was a total of 528 persons in the parish, according to a census taken at that time.

Work on the current building of St. Peter's began April 26, 1901. An architect drew plans for a stone church and the cost of the building was estimated at $14,360. A bell was purchased for $570 in 1906 and heating was installed for $1,333.92. Windows cost $930, wiring $422.40 and the architect's fee was $500. Total cost of the church was $19,342.33. The church was completed and dedicated on September 6, 1903.

Repairs and renovations were started on the church in 1965, until 1973, and included the building of a basement for $52,000, repairs to the roof and steeple for a cost of $12,000 and another $14,500 for repairs to the school building.

Local Churches

An additional $36,177 was spent on redesigning the pews, laying wall to wall carpet in the church and sanctuary, and other redecorating.

The Lake Ford Church in Cranesville was built in the late 1800's. The church is located on the Cranesville-Oakland Road, two and a half miles from the West Virginia State line.

Wayne Wolfe has been a member of the Lake Ford Church since he was 18 and is now approaching his 76th birthday. He has been a Sunday School teacher and Superintendent for much of his membership in the church, and can recall many repairs that have been done on the church.

He estimated that the church was built at a cost of about $2,000 by members of the Teets family, who originally started the church. He said that membership of the church was about 40 to 50 people and is still set about the same.

The church, which is located about 25 feet from the headwaters of Muddy Creek, has had much renovation work done on it over the years. Wolfe has helped to panel the sanctuary, build new pews, drop the ceiling of the church, new siding, an oil furnace added, a pavilion for picnics was built and the belfry was redesigned to let the sound of

Wolfe said that several years ago, the church was almost consolidated with a church in West Virginia. He explained that members of the Lake Ford Church "put up such a kick about it" that they were able to maintain the small community church.

Wolfe gives much credit to the Eary family for keeping the furnace running and otherwise maintaining the church today. Mrs. Eary plays the piano, Mr. Eary plays the organ and their son Matthew also plays occasionally. Wolfe is a trustee and one of the remaining survivors of the Teets family. Harold, is also a trustee. The Rev. Berlin Wilhelm is the current pastor of the Lake Ford Church, but he will be retiring in the spring.

There are two churches located on the Twin Churches road that were built in the 1800's: the Trinity Church, built in 1879; and the Mount Beulah United Methodist Church, built in 1882.

The churches are built on property that originally belonged to the Schwauzdeurer and the Brennerman families. While the churches don't look exactly alike, they are known as the Twin Churches of New Germany.

The Trinity Church faced a rather unusual situation from 1890 to 1900, when many names were dropped from the roll of the church for various offenses. It is not known whether the church was either very strict or there was a period of high immorality, but in 1886 the pastor of the Trinity Church preached vehemently against dancing and it was written that any member attending a platform dance would not be permitted to commune for a certain length of time.

In the 1930's, much restoration work was done to the inside of the Trinity Church for a cost of $1,400, with new pews, new carpet and choir chairs being purchased, a new furnace installed, the woodwork in the church being re-varnished and the outside of the church painted and other minor repairs completed.

While many churches in the county deserve recognition and should be written about, space limits what could be covered. Much of the information in this article was compiled from issues of "The Glade Star," a publication of the Garrett County Historical Society, and with the help of the Reverend John Grant, editor of "The Glades Star."

Take a few moments this season and reflect on the dedication and simplicity of the early settlers of the county and the importance of the church in their lives. This holiday season offers an opportunity to visit the

New Year's Eve Program Set At Pleasant View

The public is invited to a special family candlelighting service at the Pleasant View Baptist Church this Sunday, December 31, starting at 6:30 p.m. The films "Where the Waters Run" and "Fractured Families" will be shown, after which every family will have the opportunity to light a candle on a large cross, "symbolizing love, unity and direction through the Lord Jesus for 1990," according to a church spokesman.

"Where the Waters Run" is a Moody Institute of Science film and "Fractured Families" is a humorous and moving dramatic film for the entire family that explores communication problems facing parents and teens. It deals with such difficulties as over-protection, honesty and forgiveness, and offers Biblical and applicable solutions through true-life experiences. The struggles and victories of three fictitious families are acted out amidst sound Biblical teaching geared to help solve a number of common family problems. Included is a case study of Ruth Graham and problems she and Billy faced dealing with their rebellious son, Franklin, when he was a teenager.

Pleasant View is located two miles south of Oakland along U.S. Route 219. For more information, persons may call 334-8515.
